Benefits

Are you missing out on benefits you legally qualify for and deserve?

One of the key priorities for an aging America is to enable older adults to enjoy life and live independently in their homes and communities for as long as possible. For those with limited income and resources, additional support can be critical in attaining this goal and avoiding costly hospitalization.

Benefits provide you with access to healthy food, needed medical care, prescriptions and other supportive services. They also provide a community economic stimulus, since benefits are spent locally in pharmacies, grocery stores, utility companies, and health care providers.

Don't Miss Out!

As data collected by the National Council on Aging illustrates, many seniors and disabled adults are missing out on these benefits. The reasons vary:

- lack of awareness about the benefits
- the perceived complexity of the application process
- a stigma associated with receiving entitlements
- and not understanding who may be eligible

Likewise, if someone already receives one benefit, they may not realize that they may be eligible to receive further support from other programs. These core benefits are an important safety net for everyone who qualifies.

Learn more about these valuable programs by scheduling a FREE consultation with no obligation today!
